

april music notes

Happy spring! I am so excited to fully roll out our new incentives programs this month! In addition to this monthly update that will be sent via email, some of the many new changes you can look for include:

- MUSIC LESSON BINDERS! Your student should bring their binder (and books) to each lesson.
- Weekly assignment sheets to help students remember what to practice.
- Practice trackers - this month we are starting to track minutes as well as days.
- Monthly challenges - those who complete and/or win a challenge get to choose a prize!
- Theory & composition exercises, and game-based activities to supplement music instruction.
- Additional focus on composers - each month, students will receive a composer card that they should fill out before the month is over.
- Access to a wider variety of music pieces for your student(s)! Now, instead of selecting only one book to supplement their lesson book, pieces will be available individually so your student(s) can experience all kinds of music that caters to their interests.
- COMING IN MAY: Voice and Piano Passports to showcase your student(s)' achievements!

This is a lot to take in, so don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions about the changes.

MONTHLY CHALLENGE

Who can practice the MOST MINUTES in April?

A timesheet can be found on the back of the color-in practice tracker!

Winner receives a prize.

COMPOSER OF THE MONTH

J.S. Bach

Did you know... that Bach had 20 children?!

Be sure to research and fill out your composer card!

UPCOMING DATES

We have a full month of lessons in April!

Our summer recital will take place in June - more information will be available soon!

SPOTLIGHT STUDENT & FEATURED APP

Beginning in May, each month, a student will be featured here and on the studio social media pages! This will be in addition to any student performances that are normally shared; this will just be a fun new way to showcase all of your amazing musicians!

I will also share practice tips and/or music apps and programs that will help your student(s) succeed.

Be sure to follow for student performances and additional updates!
